SOUTHERN QUEENSLAND'S LARGEST INDIGENOUS CRICKET CARNIVAL

A MESSAGE FROM THE CHAIRPERSON

2022 marks the 10th year since our inaugural Western Rivers Cup, an outstanding milestone that is reflective of the efforts of all involved and the overwhelming sense of community spirit.

The generous support received from our sponsors, stakeholders, funding bodies and volunteers has ensured the carnival has remained our flagship event and attracts more and more male and female participants, spectators and exhibitors each year.

Evaluation and feedback on the carnival each year has allowed us to proactively introduce improvements and unique solutions for a more efficient and enjoyable experience for all in attendance.

The most pleasing aspect for SWIN over the years has been the validation received in recognising the fringe benefits derived from being able to deliver the carnival. The collaboration fostered among the public and private sectors and community, media and sponsor partnerships, meaningful connection and memories, motivation and incentive to participate for our youth, sense of community pride and improved capacity, to name just a few, have all been captured through our feedback channels and participant responses and comments.

We look forward once again, to welcoming all teams and supporters descending onto the picturesque Captain Cook recreational reserve and wish all those visiting, a memorable and enjoyable experience.

ABOUT SWIN

OUR MISSION:

South West Indigenous Network exists to ensure that through sport, culture and community, Indigenous Australians can live longer and have a better quality of life.

The South West Indigenous Network Inc. (SWIN) is a recognised multi-sport organisation that provides leadership, guidance and support to the Indigenous communities of South West and South East Queensland through opportunities in sport, physical activities and recreation.

For more than ten years, SWIN has created a supportive environment of community sport and recreation officers, recognising the unique needs of Indigenous people and encouraging skills sharing and traditions to benefit all members.

SWIN has provided the mechanism for Indigenous community members, athletes, administrators and coaches of the South West to develop a healthy lifestyle, build confidence and achieve their desired level of consistency in regular recreational activities.

Through its community based sport and recreational officers, SWIN has been able to strengthen and encourage physical, mental, cultural, emotional and spiritual aspects of community and individual life, by creating opportunities for success at entry level.
